

Sri Lanka Massacre – April 21

On one of the holiest days of the Christian calendar - Easter Sunday - suicide bombers attacked and killed more than 310 people and wounded over 500 while worshipping at Christian churches in three separate locations in Sri Lanka. It was a scene of absolute carnage. We are now living through an unprecedented era of Christian persecution.

International intelligence agencies warned of the attacks several times starting April 4. On April 9, the defence ministry wrote to the police chief with intelligence that included the group's name. On April 11, police wrote to the heads of security of the judiciary and diplomatic security division. Sri Lankan officials failed to heed warnings from intelligence agencies about the threat of an attack by a domestic radical Muslim group that officials blame for Easter Sunday bombings.

Islamic State supporters have cheered on the bombing, calling it "revenge" for past injustices against Muslims.

The future of Christianity is particularly grim in the North Africa and the Middle East, the very cradle of Christianity. In Egypt the Copts, who belong to one of the most ancient Christian traditions, have been targeted over and over again, after centuries of living peacefully with their Muslim neighbours.

"Where is the outrage of the left and all of my 'liberal' Christian brothers and sisters, who were incensed after the attacks in New Zealand. The entire world 'stopped' and mourned after those attacks. Will we see the same here? "Will our governments now call for the Lord's Prayer to be read over the radio and air waves, as we saw the Islamic prayer of azan broadcast over the airwaves in New Zealand, after those attacks? The left is too busy protecting Islam while it gets taken over by Islam."

In memory of all victims

“There is a sacredness in tears. They are not the mark of weakness, but of power. They speak more eloquently than ten thousand tongues. They are the messengers of overwhelming grief, of deep contrition, and of unspeakable love.”
~ Washington Irving ~

Death for death’s sake

From the US to Europe, from the Middle East to the subcontinent, tens of thousands of people have been slaughtered by Islamist extremists. The aftermath of the attacks in Sri Lanka capture Western liberal elites’ cageyness about morally and politically confronting the new barbarism. There has been no talk of fascism and hatred and our moral responsibility to stand up to these things, as there was after the mosque massacres in Christchurch. There has been no emergence of a Christian solidarity movement, in contrast with the numerous, and correct, cries of solidarity made to Muslims after Christchurch. Indeed, focus too much on Islamist terrorism these days and you risk being accused of Islamophobia.

The Sri Lanka Jihad Massacre and the Decline of the West

Britain’s Prime Minister can’t name the victims — Christians — for fear of offending the Muslim communities in the UK whose votes she desperately needs. For the same reason, she most certainly cannot mention the fact that many of the victims were celebrating Easter, or name the attackers, or explain the basis upon which they chose their targets. Theresa May epitomizes the cowardice and pusillanimity of modern Western leaders.

Sri Lanka’s Bloody Sunday

This Easter, Sri Lanka has borne witness to some of the most brutal acts of persecution in living memory. Still, Western media and government representatives refrained from recognising it as such. If we do not dare call things by their name, we are failing the victims and survivors. Like all other terrorist attacks, this was an attack against humanity, and an attack against freedom. Christians are the most persecuted religious group globally. Christianity is being systematically targeted across the Middle East and in Asia.

'Easter worshippers'?

What was almost certainly going on was a bid to deny Christians their identity, because Christianity is embarrassing to them. For them to have to admit that Christians are being specially singled out for killings by Muslim terrorists is a bridge too far for these establishment Democrats who thrive on Muslims being the 'real victims' in whatever 'something' that 'some people did' and might force them to admit they were wrong all along about the religiously motivated warfare of the Islamist terrorists.

Canada: Muslim deemed “high risk to public safety” to be released, must “reach out” to an imam

The Canadian authorities assume that the imam will “deradicalize” Kevin Omar Mohamed. What is their basis for this assumption? They are sure that Islam is a religion of peace that young Kevin Omar has simply misunderstood, and that the imam will put him back on the straight path. They do not dare to consider the possibility that Kevin Omar Mohamed may have been “radicalized” by reading the violent exhortations of the Qur’an. “This is like the UK releasing Rudolf Hess with the understanding he consult with Herr Himmler, to straighten out his Nazism.”

A mechanic who came to Canada in 2015 has been found complicit in crimes against humanity for repairing vehicles for the so-called Islamic State, Global News has learned. As such, he made a “knowing and significant contribution to ISIS,” the Refugee Appeal Division ruled, noting the terror group needed his high-level expertise in auto electrical systems.

Ontario's Bill 84 will silence legitimate political expression

The subjectivity of what is "hate" makes Ontario's Bill 84 very dangerous. This proposed new law to prohibit hate-promoting demonstrations at Queen's Park is short and simple: "No demonstration, rally or other activity that, in the opinion of the Speaker, is likely to promote hatred against any identifiable group shall be permitted on legislative precinct grounds." Bill 84 has passed second reading and is now going to committee.

Canada's Trojan Horse

Canada's greatest irony is that by legislating Multiculturalism into the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, we've actually fallen under the control of a single culture or ideology: The ideology of neo-Marxism. Within both the Canadian Charter and the Multicultural Act of 1988, this ideology is implicit rather than explicit. It can be deduced from the implied endorsement of cultural relativism and affirmative action policy. Marxism has been repackaged but it's essentially the same product.

Cross-Border Terrorism

Jihad creeps down from our northern neighbor. "Canadian man" Amor Ftouhi said he wanted to kill a cop to show that Allah is the greatest. Ftouhi was tried and sentenced, and as Lt. Neville said, "should never walk the streets again." "Windsor man" Habibullah Ahmadi accused of the October 2017 attack is not on record about his motive. The major certainty in the case is that "super good person" Anne Widholm will never walk the Ganatchio Trail again.

Jody Wilson-Raybould and Jane Philpott, both women of immense talent and merit before entering "public life," were crushed and spat out for the crime of not understanding what they were a part of. They are simply the latest, and highest profile, victims of the dirty little secret that governs Canada. The country's federal government, civil service, regulated industries, Crown corporations and its surrounding infrastructure of law firms, public and government relations outfits, are populated with people who went to the same schools and grew up in Quebec, Ottawa, or Rosedale.

This week's C3RF "update" homes in on the Province of Ontario and its push to legislate a perennial day of atonement in the form of a "day of remembrance and action on Islamophobia". # FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Sir Roger Scruton Just Won a Landmark Victory in the Culture Wars

Conservative philosopher Sir Roger Scruton has won a spectacular victory against the New Statesman – the left-wing magazine which interviewed him and then tried to smear him as a racist, bigot and anti-Semite. The fall out of this will be huge. Indeed, it is hard to overstate what a triumph this represents for free speech, sound thinking and honest journalism against the malign and increasingly devious and censorious forces of the modern left.

Free Speech, Political Freedom and Comedy

This dynamic of free speech, political equality, accountability, and comedy is just as important in modern America as it was in ancient Athens. That's why the totalitarian left seeks to weaken the First Amendment by enforcing political correctness as a new form of public decorum that insidiously prods people to self-censorship, and coerces apologies as a public sign of political inferiority and inequality. The success of politically correct surveillance and shaming also has made it harder for comedy to function as a mechanism for holding political leaders accountable. As a result, late-night comedy, Saturday Night Live, and most movies and television sit-coms are politically correct, but not very funny.

“Reporting” on the Sri Lanka Jihadist Massacres

In the eyes of a journalist like Ralf Lofstad, you see, even to mention that there's a worldwide jihad against Christians underway is to be an activist, a provocateur, a troublemaker. When a lone gunman attacks mosques in New Zealand, it makes sense, to the likes of Lofstad, to start yammering on about "Islamophobia" and "white supremacy." But when there's an act of Islamic terrorism against Christians at worship, to mention that Islam has, from its conception, been at war with Christianity and that Christians are currently being murdered en masse by Muslims around the planet is to be a spammer, an activist on an Islamophobic vendetta.

Hey, Macron: Don't you dare modernize Notre Dame!

On Tuesday night, the president incautiously stated that a "more beautiful" cathedral would be rebuilt "in five years," to general incredulity. More beautiful than what? And had Macron turned structural engineer overnight? Preposterous "concept drawings" appeared almost immediately on social media. A twisted concrete spire in pure Dubai style. A transparent roof with plate-glass windows, more suited to an elevated railroad station. And worse.

Chief architect of Notre Dame: 'We installed new detection system in 2010, and completely rewired the cathedral, so the fire wasn't caused by electrical short-circuit'

In 2010 we replaced all the electrical wiring, so there's no way this was sparked by a short-circuit. We put new wiring in place according to modern standards. And we went even further; we installed state-of-the-art fire protection and detection systems in the cathedral. At all times, there are always two men on standby in the Cathedral, day and night, to go investigate anything the moment an alarm goes off, then if necessary to call the fire emergency services.

Macron says Notre Dame should be rebuilt in line with diversity; architect suggests an Islamic minaret be included

Macron does not believe that the rebuilding of the Notre Dame should be intended to restore the glory of the ancient Gothic cathedral (with the painstaking labor that went into it); instead, Macron wants it to be recreated to be "consistent with our modern, diverse nation." Now what might that mean? Here's an indicator: an architect has proposed that the new structure include a minaret. A minaret is a type of tower built into mosques as a visual focal point and used for the Islamic call to prayer.

Keep the modernists away from the Notre-Dame restoration

It would never cross anyone's mind to suggest that Mecca or the Golden Temple should lose their distinctively Islamic and Sikh characters to accommodate people of different faiths but Catholics, and conservative Frenchmen, are being asked to reshape anything that expresses their own beliefs and heritage. Why, people who share the sentiment attributed to Harwood should ask themselves, is liberal multiculturalism so fragile that any cultural distinctiveness is to be challenged?

Islam Viewed from 'The House of War'

It is nearly twenty years since 9/11, and yet the media coverage of the events of a few weeks ago in Christchurch, and now in Sri Lanka, suggests journalists and politicians still have little to no understanding of Islam and what it is all about. On that basis I have felt compelled to write a brief introduction to Islam which I present here.

Islamic Terrorism Remains the World's Greatest Threat to Peace

After the horrific mass murder of 50 Muslim worshippers in Christchurch, New Zealand, there was widespread coverage and a torrent of main stream news networks contemplating the threat of white supremacy. Well, the coordinated bomb blasts aimed at Christian worshippers on Easter Sunday, which killed at least 290 people and injured hundreds more, demonstrates the kind of meticulous planning, funding, resources, and support that is still exclusively the domain of radical Islamic terrorism.

A pious Muslim does not and cannot believe in freedom of choice. In the religion of Islam—Submission—everything is up to Allah, as clearly and repeatedly stipulated in the Quran. Everything that a "good" Muslim does is contingent upon the will and decree of Allah, he is indoctrinated to believe. Humanity is facing a deeply troubling dilemma.

Islam is tantamount to violence. Violence is the lifeblood of Islam and it has been ever since the time of Muhammad in Medina by Muhammad's own edict and conduct.

Notre Dame vs. European Secularism

Architecture, art, sculpture, poetry, and literature were inspired by Christian faith and created by the West. Notre Dame was and is the symbol of Christian faith and of our collective western civilization, not just of Catholicism. Rev. Johnson argues that "The belfries of all Christendom echo its message of hope, redemption, and peace. Only those ablaze with the fiery flame of divine love can rebuild Notre Dame, or Europe, from the debris." The cathedral should never be about "what modern French people want" even though it is located in the center of Paris. Notre Dame is a monument to Christianity and to our collective Western Civilization.
